

Redefining Alternative Investments

Brookfield |  OAKTREE

WEALTH SOLUTIONS

For years, many alternative investments were restricted to institutions and the wealthiest individuals. Not anymore. Brookfield Oaktree Wealth Solutions is offering a diversified mix of institutional-caliber strategies to all.

WEALTH SOLUTIONS

Brookfield acquired a majority interest in Oaktree Capital Management in 2019, creating one of the world's largest alternative asset managers. Together, we have unparalleled investment experience across real assets and credit, among other areas.

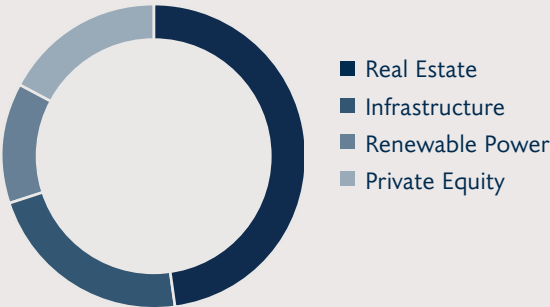

Real assets, such as real estate and infrastructure, tend to generate strong, steady income and produce cash flows that adjust with inflation. They are often backed by long-term contracts, and the highest-quality properties tend to be scarce—making them more likely to appreciate quickly. These characteristics can provide investors with attractive returns with downside protection.

Alternative credit strategies can serve as a substitute for traditional fixed income. High-yield bonds, convertible securities, leveraged loans, structured credit instruments, private debt and distressed debt—like real assets—can all provide strong, consistent returns while also limiting downside risk.

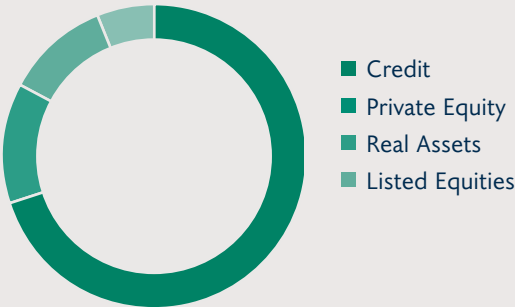

At Brookfield and Oaktree, we share a long-term, value-driven and contrarian investment style—and our market knowledge and in-depth operating experience give us an edge.

At Brookfield, we have owned and operated real assets for over 100 years, with our global reach, large-scale capital and operational expertise shaping every investment we make. At Oaktree, over the last 25+ years, we have established ourselves as a leading global alternative investment manager with expertise in credit strategies. Our Solutions

Adding alternatives to a traditional portfolio of equities and bonds can provide greater income potential, capital appreciation, inflation protection and diversification. It's no wonder, then, that investor demand for alternatives has been rising for decades.

Yet not all alternative investments are created equal. Successful investment in alternative assets requires scale, operational expertise and experience through market cycles. Brookfield and Oaktree's respective histories—and now powerful partnership—make us the ideal provider for individual investors seeking access to high-quality alternatives.

Some may look to the public markets to meet liquidity needs and overcome access constraints, while others may turn to the private markets. Across public and private markets, we develop innovative solutions for individual investors, leveraging our individual strengths.

Diversification does not ensure a profit nor protect against loss in a declining market.
