

Brookfield's Private Wealth Group Hires David Schalleur as Head of National Accounts and Business Development

NEW YORK – March 23, 2026 – Brookfield today announced its private wealth platform has hired David Schalleur as Head of National Accounts and Business Development. In this role, Schalleur will lead Brookfield's strategic relationships across wirehouses, banks, independent broker-dealers, registered investment advisors (RIAs) and other wealth intermediaries, helping expand access to Brookfield's global private markets platform.

John Sweeney, CEO of Brookfield's Private Wealth business, said: "Demand from financial advisors and their clients for access to alternative investments continues to grow rapidly. Dave brings a deep understanding of the wealth distribution landscape and a strong track record of building strategic partnerships across the industry. His leadership will be instrumental as we continue to expand our platform and deliver high-quality private market solutions to the wealth channel."

Prior to joining Brookfield, Schalleur served as Managing Director, Head of Strategic Partnerships & Independent Distribution at KKR & Global Atlantic, where he led multichannel distribution strategy and enterprise relationship development across wealth and insurance platforms. Earlier in his career, he held leadership roles at Lincoln Financial and SEI Investments. Schalleur holds an MBA and bachelor's degree from La Salle University and completed executive leadership training at The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

"I'm excited to join Brookfield and contribute to the continued growth of its private wealth platform," said Schalleur. "Brookfield's global capabilities across private equity, real assets, and credit create a powerful opportunity to help advisors deliver differentiated investment solutions to their clients. I look forward to working with our partners to expand access to these strategies."

Brookfield provides financial advisors and their clients with access to a broad range of institutional-quality private market investments across private equity, infrastructure, real estate, and credit. Launched in 2021, Brookfield Private Wealth has grown to 180 employees across 10 countries.
